

Looking for a brighter market research panel?

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ Introducing the online panel from Aurora

Aurora's Justtheanswer Panel, managed by researchers for researchers, is an altogether brighter panel experience.

"Service and consulting have been tremendous. I know I can count on you guys for everything."

85,000 nationally representative UK panellists

We can provide highly targeted samples on profiled attributes such as finance, shopping, media, leisure, travel, internet/mobile technology and occupation type.

The overall profile of the panel is balanced against the Office of National Statistics figures on age, region, gender and marital status.

We recruit from a variety of sources to minimise sample bias and implement strict management controls.

Higher engagement leads to higher response rates

To obtain the best quality of data possible we give respondents the best possible experience as panellists. We manage our panel pro-actively, maintaining regular but controlled contact with panellists and rewarding them for participation. The resulting response rates are well above average.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ The benefits of using Aurora's online panel
